

NewsFlash!

Announcement: The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has made some notable modifications to the SF424 (R&R) Application Guides, including changes to biosketch formats and samples.

On November 26th, 2014, NIH confirmed that the biosketch format that has been piloted with specific Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs) over the last year will be expanded to all FOAs with due dates on/after January 25, 2015. The SF424 (R&R) forms page currently includes both the old and new biosketch formats. After January 25, 2015, the old formats and samples will be removed and the new format will be required. Until then, you will need to choose the format appropriate for your due date.

For more information, please reference the Biosketch FAQ on the NIH website.
