

NewsFlash!

Announcement: The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has issued a notice regarding the new Biosketch format. The notice requires the use of the new format for applications submitted with due dates on/after May 25, 2015 and supersedes the previous notice (NOT-OD-15-024). The aim of the update was to provide some latitude in the transition for those who have already been compiling biosketches for their large grant applications with deadlines in early 2015. NIH plans to remove the old format pages and samples from their web site on January 25, 2015 but will continue to accept the old format until May 25, 2015.
