

NewsFlash!

Announcement: The National Science Foundation (NSF) is decommissioning Research.gov system-to-system (S2S) proposal submission service. Accordingly, Cayuse (the University's S2S service) will no longer offer the option to submit research proposals to NSF via Research.gov. Please note: Cayuse can still be used to submit NSF proposals through Grants.gov or you have the option to prepare and submit NSF proposals directly in Research.gov.

In order for Cayuse to "turn off" support for Research.gov, they will be performing maintenance on Tuesday, August 28th from 5:00 PM PT to 10:00 PM PT.

During the maintenance window, you will be periodically unable to log into Cayuse 424. Please note, even if you are able to log in, we strongly advise against attempting to enter data during the maintenance window.

What you need to do

Any un-submitted proposals created using a Research.gov opportunity will appear on the Proposals tab with the standard red circle/slash icon and instructions on how to transform the proposal to an available opportunity. These proposals can be transformed to the corresponding Grants.gov opportunity and then completed and submitted as usual. If you do not see any proposals with the red circle/slash icon, you do not need to take any action.

If you have any questions regarding how to transform an opportunity, please contact your DCG Officer.
