

NewsFlash!

As mentioned previously, USC has created the attached new job description – Student Worker, Research (032024).

Regarding the use of this new job title, please keep in mind the following clarification:

- Undergraduate students working on sponsored research projects (i.e., 5-accounts) should be hired and paid using the Student Worker, Research (032024) job code.

- Graduate students working on sponsored research projects (i.e., 5-accounts) should be hired and paid as Graduate Research Assistants, as defined by university policy, which includes tuition and health coverage. No other job category can be used to pay graduate students working on 5-accounts.

Please contact the Graduate School with any questions regarding hiring graduate students on sponsored research projects.
